Hello!

MEET

Daniel Temitope OJO

Product Marketing
Designer (UI/UX + Brand)

Designing visuals and interfaces that help brands grow, convert, and scale.

ABOUT ME

I'm a Product Marketing Designer focused on building high-performing visuals and interfaces for startups and brands.

I combine visual strategy, UI/UX thinking, branding, and marketing design to create work that is not just visually appealing - but effective.

My work spans fintech, education, fashion, events, and marketing campaigns.

Project: Opay UI/UX Redesign

Problem:

The existing interface was cluttered and inconsistent, causing confusion across key flows and reducing user confidence in a financial product.

Goal:

Simplify core user journeys, improve usability, and strengthen trust through a clearer, more structured interface.

Approach:

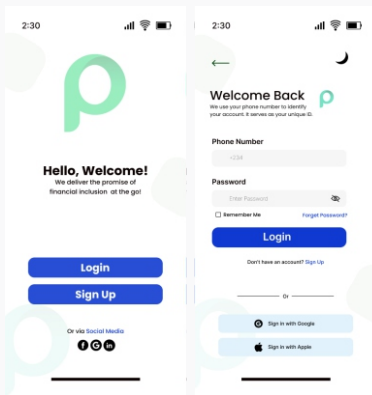

Conducted a UX audit, identified friction points in key flows, and redesigned wireframes using proven fintech patterns before refining into high-fidelity UI.

Solution:

Created a clean, intuitive interface with improved navigation, structured layouts, and stronger visual hierarchy, supported by a reusable design system.

Outcome:

Improved clarity, reduced friction across key interactions, and enhanced overall user confidence and experience.

Project: De'Quins Brand

Project: De'Quins Couture - Brand Identity Design

Problem: De'Quins was a new fashion brand preparing to launch without any established visual identity. There was no logo, no consistent colour direction, and no unified look across marketing materials - making it difficult to present the brand as premium and trustworthy.

Goal: Create a complete, cohesive brand identity that positions De'Quins as a modern, elegant fashion brand and ensure consistency across all touchpoints - from social media to print materials.

Approach:

I developed the brand from the ground up, starting with visual direction - defining typography, colour palette, and overall brand tone. I focused on creating a clean, fashion-forward aesthetic that communicates elegance and confidence.

Solution:

Delivered a full brand identity system including logo design, brand colour palette, typography direction, marketing flyers, business cards, launch posters, and countdown campaign visuals - all aligned into a consistent visual language.

Outcome:

Established a strong and cohesive brand presence from launch, improving visual consistency, brand recognition, and overall professionalism across all marketing and customer-facing materials.

Project: Execution, Product/ Social Media Design

Execution & Marketing Design

Beyond product and brand design, I also execute high-impact marketing and print materials - ensuring consistency, clarity, and production-ready output across digital and physical touchpoints.

Description:

Designed and delivered a range of print materials including flyers, banners, business cards, and event collateral - ensuring proper layout, colour consistency, and print-ready file setup.

Solution:

Created press-ready files with correct bleed, margins, and colour profiles while maintaining visual consistency with brand identity across all materials.
